

Declaration of Translation's Copyright Consent

Book Title: ..... (The Work)

Translator: .....

In the event of the Work is selected as the winner of Bait AlGhasham DarArab International Translation Prize, and upon receiving the full amount of the translators' prize, I, As the translator of the above book, hereby state that:

- (A) I assert my moral right to be identified as the Translator of the work. My name shall appear on the title page of their edition of the Translation and wherever possible in all publicity material (catalogues, advertisements, website etc.). The Publishers shall print the following copyright notice of the Translation: 'English language translation copyright ©Translator's name, 20**.
- (B) I grant DarArab for Publishing and Translation the full and exclusive right to produce, publish, sell, and license the Translation of the Work or any abridgement or portion of it in all editions, format and forms in the English language throughout the world. I understand that the Translator has no right to publish the Translation or any part of it without a written permission from the Publisher.
- (C) In case of the Publisher's rights in the Work revert back to the original copyright holder for whatsoever reason, I acknowledge that although I retain the moral right of my translation, I will still need to reach a separate agreement with the author/ Copyright holder of the original work in order to republish the book.

..... (signature)

..... (print name)

For and on behalf of the Translator

Date: .....